Facilities

We were not quite so blessed this month as last. Our humidity unit shut itself down when cool weather arrived. A small amount of refrigerant was added to the system, but until the next occurrence of cool weather, we cannot be sure the problem was solved.

Activities

At the time of the shutdown, we were finished with the first half of the test and were checking the data before starting the second half. Testing is again under way and nearing the 60% mark. We still think we will have a report by early January.

The FTC's status has not changed. They still lack the staff needed to start testing.
